Sample fictional policy document for a company-document RAG chatbot project. This document is for software-development practice only and is not a real company policy.

1. Vacation Leave

Full-time employees receive 20 vacation days per calendar year. New employees receive a prorated balance based on their start date.

Vacation should normally be requested through the company leave system at least two weeks before the planned absence. Manager approval is required.

Employees should coordinate vacation dates with their team to maintain adequate business coverage.

2. Sick Leave

Employees receive 10 paid sick days per calendar year. Sick leave may be used for the employee's illness, medical appointments, or other permitted purposes.

Employees should notify their manager before the start of the workday when practical.

3. Parental Leave

Eligible employees may receive up to 12 weeks of parental leave following the birth, adoption, or placement of a child, subject to applicable law and eligibility requirements.

Employees should contact Human Resources as early as possible to coordinate parental leave.

4. Bereavement Leave

Employees may receive up to 5 paid working days of bereavement leave following the death of an immediate family member. Additional unpaid or other protected leave may be available depending on the circumstances and applicable law.

5. Leave Carryover

Unused vacation may be carried into the following calendar year up to a maximum of 5 days unless a different requirement applies under local law or a written employment agreement.

Sick leave carryover is handled according to applicable law and company requirements.
